EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
KOLKATA, DECEMBER 13

THE STATE BJP on Wednesday took out a candlelight march in Kolkata over the death of a West Bengal worker in Kerala. While Kerala Police said it was suicide, the family of the deceased alleged it was murder.

Hemanta Roy (25), a resident of Role village in Bankura, had gone to Kerala for work at the end of September. He was working as an electrician at Panavally in Alappuzha district. Roy is survived by wife and a six-month-dispute with his wife, who is staying in Bengal. He had cut his throat late night on December 11 after talking to his wife over phone. We have come to know that Roy had tried a failed suicide attempt six months after his marriage.

On the other hand, Hemanta's father Ananda Roy said, "We had spoken to him over phone on Sunday evening. There was nothing suspicious in his voice. He also said he would come back at the end of December. We cannot believe that he was killed in that very night. We want a probe into his
